

Dear Parent/Carer

It has been fantastic to welcome Year 13 back into Bradgate Sixth Form and we've all been really impressed by their enthusiasm and their focus on moving forward.

As you know, A Level and BTEC examinations have been cancelled this year, with schools being asked to provide teacher assessed grades for each student in each subject instead. The government released initial information about this at the start of the month and we expect them to update us with further detail at the end of the month. As soon as this becomes available, we will share it with you. This coming Friday, Mr Marston will speak to Year 13 students to reassure them about what happens next:

- Between now and Easter teachers will recap and consolidate what they have already learnt
- Before Easter we will share the grade we think they have achieved so far
- Students will have plenty of time to improve their grade and we will use the time after Easter to give students opportunities to do this
- Students will not sit any public exams and the work they do to improve grades will be in the classroom and marked by their teachers

On Wednesday next week look out for a message from us sharing the grades achieved so far in each subject. Please be assured that we will do all we can to help every student produce the best evidence to demonstrate their ability. The most important thing each of them can do now is to continue to show 100% commitment to every lesson, every day.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

Kindest regards

Katie Johnson and Karen Stirk
